

Safety Director J. W. Moore and Chief of Police Hugh J. McDermott today instructed the police department to rigidly enforce regulations governing the use of 1928 automobile plates.

Orders were given patrolmen to stop all automobiles which attempt to operate on New Year's day without the new tags. Motorists will be instructed to get licenses before moving their cars.

Secretary of State Brown today advised Deputy License Commissioner J. S. Hilbert, of George H. Owen & Co., that the time limit for 1927 plates expires at midnight tomorrow night.

Coughs Stopped Almost Instantly

A New, Safe Prescription

A famous physician's prescription called Thoxine relieves the most stubborn coughs that otherwise might hang on for weeks. Acts on new theory, relieves the inflammation and irritation which is almost always the cause of the coughs—stops it like magic. Thoxine is equally good for sore throat, for which purposes it is far superior to gargles. Contains no dope, chloroform or other harmful drugs. Once used you will never be without it. Pleasant tasting, easy to take and safe for the whole family. Remember one swallow stops night coughs or sore throat within 15 minutes or money back. 25c., 60c. and $1.00. At all druggists.

Through use of modern machinery sugar growers of Hawaii now employ 5,000 less men than in 1917.

HOW MUCH THERE IS FOR OLD AND YOUNG TO LEARN TO DO

The darkest shadows any of us can get under are those a man makes for himself when he gets in his own light, persuading himself to believe that his neglects, mistakes and age have passed him along to a time when it is impossible to be of use to himself, his family and his neighbors.

We must always live—

"For the cause that lacks assistance,
The wrong that needs resistance,
For the future in the distance,
And the good that I can do."

FASHIONGRAMS

Latest News of the World of Fashion, Condensed for Quick Reading.

Feather flowers are gradually ousting all others from smart shoulders.

Tulle, Satin and Chiffon are smartest for mid-winter evenings.

The small hat is still the smart hat, with gold ornaments way ahead in chic.

Brimless and smooth-fitting, dance hats of metallic brocade are very popular among the fashionables.

The newest coiffure is sleek and simple but breaks into curls over the ears in true feminine fashion.

Beige promises to be the leading color in shoes for Spring, with snake skin the smartest leather.

Mesh Hose, heretofore smart only for evening, are now seen walking out in daylight.

Spring will probably usher in new suit with a three-quarter length coat.

The smartest frocks continue to accentuate their lovely lines by means of fagotting.

Satin continues its shingly conspicuous reign as the season's darling and will probably carry its success right into the Spring for coats as well as frocks.

Many smart bags have clipped their corners to be different—while others add tiers and enormous golden balls for clasps.

Golden arrows point the way to chic on many a spring frock.

Evening wraps are wraps again, having discarded the sleeves of last year.

The all black coat is the coat of the season; with broadcloth the smartest fabric of which it can be fashioned.

Delicate subtle shades will be the rule for Spring.

The light weight tweeds and woolsens so popular now, will be better than ever for Spring street wear.

Scarfs again flutter from every smart shoulder—short and fringed for day time, larger and exquisitely studded with brilliants for evening.

Metallic Blouses - $8.75

Fashion sponsors blouses such as these for afternoon and evening wear. Fashioned of lovely patterned metallic brocade. Featuring round, square and V-necks, long sleeves—in rich tones of black and gold, black and silver and paisley. Moderately priced at $7.50 and $8.75.

Other blouses of georgette, metallic cloth and crepe de chine in blue, black, grey, silver and gold—$5.00.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKETS

NEW YORK, Dec. 30.—Irregularity with extreme narrow price changes featured the stock market in the early trading today. Speculative interest was centered in the steel, motors and city utilities stocks, but the large volume of profit-taking and "cash" selling effectively blocked the way to further rallies in prices of the speculative favorites. The cash selling was for the purpose of establishing losses for income-tax calculations, not unusual at this time of year.

Motor stocks commanded a firm market, with General Motors, Chrysler, Hudson, Overland, Hupp and other active stocks in this group at the near the peak prices of the week, but only fractionally above Thursday's close. The forthcoming motor show in New York is expected to be a harvest period for the signing up of new orders for cars of all makes and models, and car sales at this annual festival have been increasing by leaps and bounds.

The oil stocks also rallied to the accompaniment of reports that the petroleum heads would take effective steps to prevent potential crude production from reaching actual production until the market is in a position to receive it.

EAST LIVERPOOL—AMERICA'S POTTERY CENTER

FRIDAY, DECEMBER 30, 1927.

Let's Have Peace in Municipal Government

With five new faces in the legislative branch, another municipal government will be ushered into being in East Liverpool on Sunday, for Saturday marks the retirement of the old regime.

By reason of his re-election in a normally Republican community, Mayor Ralph C. Benedum, a Democrat, will again head the administration. And he announced today that he will make no change in the service-safety directorship, which has been so capably handled during the past two years by John W. Moore.

Six Republicans, including the presiding officer, and one Democrat will form the new council which supplants five solons who have been on the job in 1926-27. The personnel includes: President, Charles Hayes, now councilman-at-large, who will succeed N. P. Kerr; Solons-at-large Harry A. Altman, T. P. Ferguson and Harry B. Fleming and Ward Members Edward L. Green, H. S. Lindell, L. M. Poole and George A. Hughes. With the exception of Green, who succeeds a fellow Democrat, are all G. O. P. men.

City Auditor William M. McGraw will begin his fourth term, while Joseph G. Strauss, named treasurer for the expired part of the tenure of A. Earl Edwards, who resigned early in November to become municipal court clerk, will start on his own.

With the advent of the new year, the incoming officials should profit by the mistakes, if any, made by their predecessors. And above all, there should be peace, not quibbling which has developed not infrequently in the handling of municipal legislation by the retiring council.

Let's forget personalities and selfishness and inculcate the spirit of cooperation instead of bickering in the conduct of the city's business.

Kicked Ahead

"Sometimes when people refuse to progress," observes the Ashland (Wis.) Press, "they are kicked into it. It appears that this is what will happen to the people of the United States and Canada in the matter of the St. Lawrence deep waterway."

"This matter has been hanging fire for 50 years, and everybody agrees it is a good thing. The one thing now that will bring it, perhaps, is for congestion of the lakes to get so severe that we will be forced to do what should have been done long ago."

There has been considerable of a kick in that direction the past fall. Grain shipments to Montreal by way of the Great Lakes and the St. Lawrence have been the heaviest ever, and there has been serious congestion at that port in transferring the grain from the small lake vessels to the big ocean freighters. One thing that the deeper channel is wanted for is to prevent the necessity of transshipment at Montreal of cargoes from our continental interior to Europe.

There has been other serious congestion, in recent years, in the river channels and canals of the system. All of them, it is generally agreed among transportation men, need to be deepened and widened.

Where The Money Goes

Of the $4,000,000,000 paid by the American people this year in one way and another, to run their government, Secretary Mellon reports, a little more than half goes for the public debt, which is a war debt. There is 31.8 cents on the dollar, then, for current military expenses. That makes about 82 cents of the taxpayer's dollar for "past and future wars," leaving 18 cents for all the various civil functions of government.

Eighty-two cents for war and 18 cents for keeping all the peaceful machinery of the government in operation, for paying the salaries of the president and congress and scores of thousands of federal employees, for maintaining our federal system of justice, with all its courts, for supporting the diplomatic and consular service, furthering agriculture, commerce, waterways, education and the thousand and one civil purposes for which governments are created.

There's nothing so unusual about it, either. That's about the way it is with most of the nations.

We were paying 62 per cent of our national income for war in 1915-16, before our big war preparations began. The total amount spent on war items has increased greatly, but the ratio of war expense is not so much higher as might be expected.

It's as if a city spent about three-fourths of its public income for policing.

So it has been for ages. Must it always be so? Or will the nations be able to cut down their armament and use their money for constructive development?

Ninety Per Cent Sound

Most of the pessimists about present-day youth are to be found among people who don't really know the situation at first hand. Many ministers, educators and parents who have the development and character of the younger generation seriously at heart find ample grounds for faith and optimism.

Dr. James Gordon Kilkey of Amherst college is among these. In an address on "Youth and the Changing Social Order" he states his belief that the drinking and questionable conduct to be found in colleges and universities are limited to 10 per cent of the whole student body. The other 90 per cent he considers fine and sound, with as high a sense of honor as the young people of any generation ever had.

"In some points the youth of today is better off than the youth of the past generations," he finds. "The youth of today is better physically because of the advance in medical science, more physical exercise and more rational diet."

"There are a certain number of the young people of today who are doomed to dismal failure. Those who do not will attain to a new day of better knowledge, freedom and peace."

One fact that stares thoughtful people in the face is that where failure comes it is more often the result of the mistakes of elders than of wilful folly in the one who fails. More can be done to save and help young people by seeking wisdom for parents and teachers than by wringing the hands and shaking the head over the new frankness and independence and resistance to arbitrary control.

NEW YORK, Dec. 30. — Thoughts while strolling: Bon bons named for a night club hostess. Madison Square Garden, which as Robert Garland observes, is not only not on Madison Square but is not of garden. And if those are not enough notes here are extra ones—not-not-not. With love and kisses!

The tragic, young and beautiful girls with fat and guttural yodels of the flesh. All the fur seems a bright yellow. Hopper, the wig man. Wonder whatever became of face veil manufacturers? Messmore—there's a name—Kendall. Fanny Ward's husband's whiskers.

Fascinating tobacco shop windows—racks of pipes, deep rubber pouches and bright tins of tobacco. "Maloney—Spaghetini." What's wrong with that picture? Dr. George A. Bersey, who has the benign face of a village grocer. An Arabian rug seller following a drunk up a side street.

Those playrights who try to be shy yet luminous. A gum chewing flapjack window juggler. Otis Skinner's talented daughter Cornelia. The open fronted promenade parlors with mechanical pianos and hairy armed attendants. An angry fare hurls his derby at a taxi cab driver. Will Page, the publicity man.

Muzzled trained bears waddling in to a stage entrance. Curtain time crowds in ticket agencies waiting for "returns." The perfume parlor with a sidewalk spray of odors—changed daily. The theatre slogan: "Courtesy—But Not Overdone." A hint to movie palaces.

The flashy clothing stores open at night. Will Lenzel, editor of Smart Set. A lady sighs: "I'm tired of being a blonde." The silhouetted tightly-gripped couples in upstairs dancing academies. Old Mississippi—Broadway's grinning ebony hued hackman. Immobile lady "decoys" knitting in sight-seeing buses. And the industrious bakers who cry: "Fast car, going right out!" The Broadway florist who resembles King George even to knock knees. A sprinkle of rain and the umbrella sellers swarm Times Square.

HASKIN'S LETTER

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Government Publishing. WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 30.—The publishing business of the United States Government is one of the largest enterprises of its kind in the world, although that fact is realized by comparatively few of the million people who receive each year various kinds of publications bearing the imprint of the Government Printing Office.

Any one who has any doubt about it is invited to consider the statistics of just one average day's work in this establishment: Sheets ruled, 70,000; books cased in, 4,000; sheets folded, 710,000; forms put to press, 500; value of output, $38,000; ems of type set, 6,800,000; signatures gathered, 429,000; copies wire stitched, 150,000; number of jobs completed, 250; compensation of employees, $27,000; money order blanks printed, 700,000; half-tones and line etchings made, 300; pages of book work printed, 12,600,000; copies of publications delivered, 315,000; square inches of electrotypes and stereotypes, 45,000.

Perhaps even more impressive figures are those of the materials and supplies used in one year's operation, which includes 43,000,000 pounds of paper; 12,000,000 yards of wire; 118,000 pounds of ink and 4,000 rollers, both made in the Government Printing Office; 3,000,000 containers for postal cards; 60,000 pounds of glue; 200,000 yards of binding cloth; 22,000,000 square inches of gold leaf and other stamping materials; 25,000,000 yards of sewing thread; 100,000 square feet of leather, and 13,000,000 feet of monotype keyboard paper.

There are more than 4,000 employees in the establishment and the annual cost of operation exceeds $12,000,000. The cost of the building and the value of the equipment aggregate more than $7,000,000 and the salaries and wages paid yearly amount to $8,250,000. More than 100,000 forms of type and plates are sent to press each year and more than 10,000 octavo pages of proofs in many languages are read and revised each day.

How many printed pages are turned out by the establishment in the course of a year has not been computed, but it may be mentioned that 1,600,000,000 postal cards are printed annually and delivered direct to postal agencies and that a single printed job turned out required 323,000,000 copies made up into 646,000 tablets, while in six months of one year 11,000,000 Farmers' Bulletins, varying in size from 16 to 160 pages, were printed, folded, gathered, stitched and trimmed.

Regular Dated Publications.

Approximately 50 dated publications—that is, those that are issued regularly every day, every week, or every month—are published by the Government Printing Office. Most important of these, in many respects, is the Congressional Record which is issued on the morning of each legislative day of Congress. It consists of from 8 to 220 pages, averaging about 80 pages daily, and each issue runs to about 35,000 copies. In one year it made 12 volumes of over 1,000 pages each and cost almost half a million dollars. The Record carries no advertising of course, but it is not the kind of a medium that advertisers would favor anyhow, for the great bulk of its circulation is free. It has only about 500 paid subscribers.

In addition to getting out the Record, all bills, resolutions, reports, hearings, documents, etc., presented in Congress are printed on the day of their presentation, and this alone would keep a big printing shop busy. For the Post Office Department, aside from the vast number of postal cards already mentioned, the G. P. O. prints each year 320,000,000 money orders, each having a potential value of $100. Not a single money order blank has been lost or stolen during the 20 years this work has been done in the Government's own print shop. Postal Guides, averaging about 1,100 pages and to the number of about 80,000, are also published each year, as well as hundreds of small jobs.

The Department of Agriculture, in addition to its almost innumerable bulletins and pamphlets, has one major publication, the Agriculture Yearbook that runs to 1,200 pages and of which 400,000 copies are issued annually, all bound in buckram or cloth. All the executive departments, bureaus, and commissions have annual reports to be published that vary in size from 16 to 1,000 pages each and that have editions ranging from 2,500 to 5,000 copies; briefs must be printed for all the courts and other legal agencies in Washington; and specifications and a gazette must be printed for the Patent Office that add up to a bill of more than $800,000 each year.

And just to ring in one of these "end to end" comparisons it may be stated that, set in equivalent ems of standard newspaper type, the yearly product of the G. P. O.'s typesetting machines would produce 7,000 8-column all-reading-matter newspapers of 12 pages each.

World's Greatest Bookseller. Through this establishment, Uncle Sam has become the world's largest bookseller. He distributes 60,000,000 publications annually and maintains on hand a stock of 30,000,000 which cover almost every subject of human interest. His revenues from this tremendous volume of business are not so large, however, for his prices are remarkably low. For example, he charges only $4 for a copy of the Code of Laws of the United States, a well-made volume of approximately 2,500 pages.

In connection with the G. P. O. Uncle Sam has a laboratory for the testing of stock, materials, and supplies purchased, a complete emergency hospital with two physicians and three nurses, a plant with a monthly output of 11,500 pounds of paste, flexible zinc, and gums, and a library of 350,000 different government publications. To facilitate mailing, the printing office is connected with the Washington city post office by a belt conveyor that has a capacity of 360 mail sacks an hour.

For the employees there are recreation and reading rooms, shower baths, bowling alleys, and a large hall that may be used as a forum, a motion picture theater, a concert auditorium, or a ball room. The employees themselves own and direct the operation of a cafeteria that seats 1,000 people at a time and they have day and night orchestras to give concerts during luncheon periods.

In line with its other activities, the Government Printing Office is an authority on punctuation, capitalization, etc., and issues a style book that is widely used. Just now a revised edition of this publication is being brought out and will be available to the public within a few weeks. Editors, writers, and printers, especially, will be interested in it.

One of the things in the G. P. O. that invariably changes the attention of visitors is the linotype machine which was in General Pershing's service in France during the World war. It was placed on a special truck and furnished with light, heat, and power from a central point, also located on a truck, and within 40 minutes after its arrival at the General's headquarters it was in full operation. It is now being used at the G. P. O. and has not yet become a museum exhibit.

MOST PITIFUL CASE

Mr. John S. Flanagan, 101 S. Adams St., Peoria, Ill., says:—In 1922 I had one of the worst cases of inflammatory rheumatism any- one could have, covering a period of five years, suffering terribly and constantly. Could not get around, except on crutches, unable to dress or undress myself. Tried everything known to medical science, including two trips to Hot Springs, without relief. Up to this time, had paid out over $10,000, then like a miracle from Heaven, QICKO WONDER LIQUID, was brought to me. I'm not exaggerating in stating that this remedy took me off my crutches in four weeks. Since it cured me, I personally know it has cured over 500 cases in Peoria, many like mine, chronic and given up.

Wellsville City Officials Review Activities of Two Years And Peep Into Future at Banquet

William Taylor, of Seagraves Motor Truck Company, Columbus, Host at Presbyterian Church.

Pledging co-operation in the fullest measure possible and the renewing of efforts toward achieving an harmonious administration during the next two years, Wellsville city officials briefly reviewed activities of the past two years, and, to a certain extent, peeped into the future as they sat around the banquet table last night in the First Presbyterian church as guests of William Taylor, Wellsville's representative of the Seagraves Motor Truck Co., of Columbus.

That wage raises for city firemen and patrolmen are dependable entirely on whatever luck City Auditor Fred Eckfeld may have in scraping up the money was indicated by outright expressions from three councilmen and indirect views of others. That both the firemen and the policemen are deserving of more money than they are now getting was the consensus of opinion of all city officials who were on the speaking program following the dinner.

The dinner, arranged by Taylor at the request of the Seagraves Co., from whom the city purchased its new truck, was staged purely as an informal event with members of the regular and volunteer fire departments as the principal guests but the invitation list was extended to include police, city officials and others. The speaking program that followed the meal, prepared and served by women of the church, developed into something of a round table discussion of administration policies and affairs.

Earl Adams acted as toastmaster. The speakers included Mayor W. L. Fogo, Councilmen William Nicholson, Raymond McLean, Charles Peters, Jack Reil, Fred Heldman, Ted Swearingen and Clyde Baker, as well as the three new members of council, W. J. Haugh, Fred Lowary and Richard Keay; City Engineer P. J. Davis, C. J. John Floto, and others.

Solons Nicholson, Lowary and Swearingen outright support any legislation in the future that might have as its objective the increasing of remuneration for firemen, who now get $115 monthly, and patrolmen, who draw $130. Other present and prospective members of the legislative body had nothing but praise for the members of the two departments and agreed that their work should be more highly rewarded.

Mayor Fogo talked briefly of the administration's activities, asserting that every effort had been made to conduct the affairs of the city as efficiently and as economically as possible with a view of serving all of the people in all parts of the city. In the moment of retrospection he paid tribute to the courage of the late James "Jim" Kenney, a member of the force who died on duty early last year, his bullet-riddled body being picked up in Commerce street where it had fallen under the fire of a midnight gun battle.

He pointed to a filtration plant as one of the next progressive steps the city must take, possibly not in the near future, he said, but eventually.

Auditor Fred Eckfeld, in a few brief remarks, declared that every city official, with the exception of himself, was underpaid and referred casually to firemen and patrolmen, who not only give their time and services to a job that many people wouldn't want, but also go further and place their lives in jeopardy for the protection of the public.

COUNCIL ENDS TWO-YEAR TERM

Will Close up Affairs at Adjourned Meet Tonight.

Reaching the end of the 1926-27 term, Wellsville city solons tonight will adjust their municipal business affairs prior to the re-organization of the new councilmanic group.

Tonight's session, adjourned from the last regular meeting, last week, will be devoted chiefly to balancing funds.

WILL EXEMPLIFY MASTER DEGREE

Master Mason's degree will be exemplified at a meeting of Wellsville lodge No. 180, tonight in the temple, Main street.

Exemplification of the degree will be in the hands of the East Liverpool lodge, under the direction of Erick Wallover and Emil Glaser. Luncheon will be served.

WAR VETERAN IS FOUND DEAD

John Cox, 83, Succumbs in Bed at Daughter's Home.

John Cox, 83 years old, Civil war veteran, was found dead in bed this morning at 10 o'clock in the home of a daughter, Mrs. C. W. Reed, 1907 Nevada street.

Death is believed to have been caused by a stroke.

The body was discovered by Mrs. Reed who went to his room to call him.

The aged man was partly attired, indicating, it is thought, that he had arisen and begun to clothe himself when overcome.

LOCAL GIRL WEDS IN N. CUMBERLAND

Announcement was made today of the marriage of Miss Adeline Shanks, daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Shanks, of Main street, to Newell Mason, of Smiths Ferry, Pa., which was solemnized Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock at New Cumberland.

The bride was attired in black velvet, with slippers to match and wore a silver hat. Miss Jennie Putman and Claude Mitchell of Smiths Ferry were the attendants.

The bridegroom is employed in Midland. The bride, a graduate of Wellsville high school with the class of 1925, has been a nurse in the East Liverpool City hospital.

After a visit in Pittsburgh Mr. and Mrs. Mason will reside temporarily with the groom's uncle, G. T. Duncan, in East End, East Liverpool.

SUNDAY PROGRAM AT YELLOW CREEK

Preaching services will be held Sunday at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m., in the Yellow Creek Presbyterian church in charge of the pastor, Rev. K. J. Stewart. The morning theme will be, "The Times and the Seasons," and the evening subject, "Thy Word Have I Hid in Mine Heart That I Might Not Sin Against Thee."

Sunday school will convene at 10 a. m. and young people will meet at 7 p. m.

COTERIE WATCH PARTY PLANNED

EPWORTH LEAGUE DISTRICT RALLY HELD IN METHODIST CHURCH HERE

Rev. Harry G. Earle, North-East Ohio Conference President, Delivers Address.

An institute rally of the Steubenville district of the Epworth league was held yesterday afternoon and evening in the First Methodist Episcopal church. The afternoon session opened at 2 o'clock, with a song service in charge of A. K. Switzer, after which Rev. W. O. Hawkins, D. D., pastor of the local church, was in charge of the devotionals. Greetings were made by Dr. H. E. Powell, superintendent of the Steubenville district, and an address on "Conference Activities" was given by Rev. Harry G. Earle, North-East Ohio conference president.

A banquet was held at 6 o'clock, covers being arranged for 50 guests. The table was decorated in Christmas effect. Mrs. Kathryn Masters, Steubenville district institute secretary, was toastmistress. Responses were made by Rev. Harry G. Earle of Wellington; Rev. Dr. Hawkins and Miss Sally Goodwin of this city; Rev. Charles Edgar of Piedmont, a former local resident; Rev. Dr. J. O. Campbell, pastor of the Anderson Methodist Episcopal church of this city, and Miss Isabelle Kent of Cadiz. The evening was spent informally in the gymnasium of the church, with a mock institute and games.

Missionary Society Meeting.

The Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary Society, auxiliary No. 2, of the First Presbyterian church will meet Tuesday evening, January 3, at 7:30 o'clock in the church parlors. Mrs. Harold Allison will be in charge of the devotionals. The home topic, "National Missions," will be discussed by Mrs. Howard Kaufman, while the foreign topic, "China," will be in charge of Mrs. J. T. Herbert.

Refreshments will be served by the social committee of which Mrs. Percy Candlin is chairlady.

East End Catholic Club.

Second annual watch party will be held at the East End Catholic club on Saturday evening, beginning at 9:30 o'clock. The following program will be presented:

Grang march, Swiss Serenaders. Vocal solo, Miss Deloris Sullivan. Solo dance, Misses Lucia and Virginia Anderson. Recitation, Miss Doris Lodge. Square dance, Swiss Serenaders. Recitation, Miss Alvera Allison. Square dance, Swiss Serenaders. Piano solo, Miss Sue Wargle. Dance number prize couple, Swiss Serenaders. Vocal solo, Miss Dolores McLaughlin. "The Reciter," Miss Mary Beth Finley. Vocal solo, John Coleman.

Refreshments will be served at 12 o'clock, after which a dancing party will be held.

The following officers will receive the guests: Honorary president, Rev. Father John L. Maurer; president, Frank Ditty; vice president, Mrs. Edward Holtzman; recording secretary, Miss Helen Eck; financial secretary, Miss Alvera Allison; treasurer, Mrs. John Tomlinson; chairlady of the entertainment committee, Mrs. Harlan Finley.

Lutheran Choir to Give Cantata.

Rehearsals for the Christmas cantata, "The Christ Child," to be given by the choir of St. John's Lutheran church Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock, were held yesterday.

Leonard Schneider.

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Elizabeth Leonard, daughter of Mrs. Edna Leonard, of Dresden avenue, to Leon E. Schneider, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Schneider. The ceremony was performed Saturday, December 24, in the parsonage of the United Presbyterian church of Lisbon, with Rev. John N. Cameron officiating.

The bride was employed at the Knowles, Taylor and Knowles pottery, while the bridegroom is employed at the Troy Wet Wash Laundry.

Mr. and Mrs. Schneider will reside temporarily with the bride's brother, Raymond Leonard, Chester avenue.

OPTIMISM IS KEYNOTE OF 1928 BUSINESS OUTLOOK

Keen Observers of Industrial Conditions Predict Greater Prosperity During Coming Year Than in 1927.

BALTIMORE By PHILLIPS LEE GOLDSBOROUGH President Union Bank of Maryland

I expect a greater prosperity in 1928 than we have enjoyed in 1927. This observation should be tempered with reflections on the present trade reaction from an abnormally good business that reached its peak about March of this year.

NEW ORLEANS By JAMES P. BUTLER President Canal Bank & Trust Company

The general business outlook for the South in 1928 is satisfactory. Indications are that there will be a sound development, with no great acceleration, and nothing that could be construed as inflation.

FORECAST DECIDED IMPROVEMENT

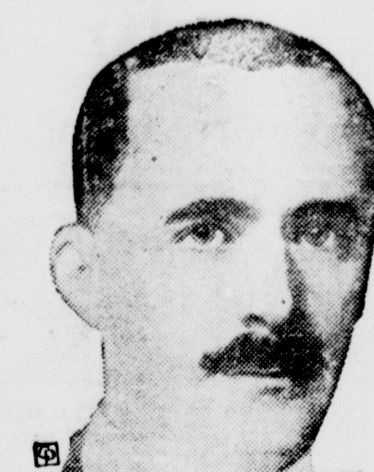

This is the time of year when an inventory of business on hand and business in prospect is taken. It is the logical period in which to take such inventory, being between the seasons of greatest productivity.

SAN FRANCISCO By A. P. GIANNINI President Bancitaly Corporation

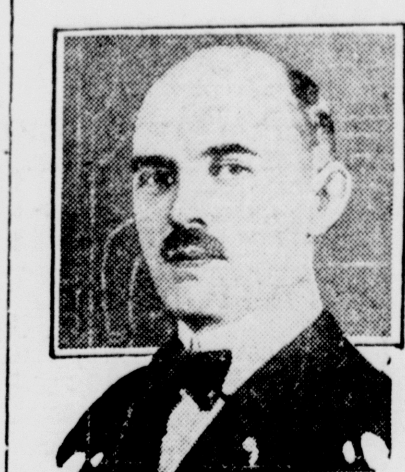

The general sentiment of business men is something that should not be underestimated. The merchant who is stocking up for a good season, buys more than the one who is doubtful about what is going to happen.

CLEVELAND By LEONARD P. AYRES Vice President Cleveland Trust Company

The present prospects are that the conditions of general business will improve shortly. There seems to be four conditions necessary for recovery following a depression.

KANSAS CITY By Walter S. McLUCAS Chairman of the Board Commerce Trust Company

As business conditions over the southwest are today, it would seem that any change could be only one of improvement. These conditions remind me of Emerson's familiar essay on "Compensation."

Leaders Declare Money Is Easy With Little Prospect of Any Great Change in Credit Situation; Tax Reduction Possible.

CHICAGO By FRANK O. WETMORE Chairman of the Board First National Bank

A survey of conditions has convinced me that business is in a safe position at the present time, and the large purchasing power created by a bountiful harvest should maintain business on its present or a higher level, at least during the first few months of 1928.

NEW YORK By CHARLES E. MITCHELL President National City Bank

With a sound credit situation, a return of Ford and other leading manufacturers to a normal output, a continuance of large scale building, and the substantial improvement that occurred in 1927 in agricultural conditions, we have powerful influences tending to swing business back into its stride and to put 1928 definitely in the list of years that have brought good times to the United States.

AL SMITH HITS KU KLUX KLAN

New York Governor Publicly Denounces Organization.

ALBANY, N. Y., Dec. 30.—Political leaders at the capitol today were wondering what effect Governor Smith's blunt denunciation of the Ku Klux Klan will have on his chances of winning the Democratic presidential nomination next year.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30.—The federal grand jury today returned a presentment charging Harry F. Sinclair, oil magnate, and six associates with conspiracy to obstruct justice.

CARD OF THANKS.

We sincerely thank the many kind neighbors and friends, for the sympathy shown us during the sickness and death of our loved one, Earl H. Donohew.

NO 1928 WAR, SEER DECLARES

PARIS, Dec. 30.—"The Balkans have trouble—as usual; Rumania will be a bit upset, but there will be no real war in 1928," declares Madame Praya, celebrated French seer, who, at this time last year, predicted the floods in Morocco and other 1927 events.

Remus Held Insane

The medical men, it was learned, declared that Remus was sane, "but a dangerous psychopath," and recommended that he be kept in custody. It was brought out during the hearing that Remus recently made a statement to the effect that "it might be legally wrong, but not morally wrong, to kill Franklin D. Roosevelt."

$400,000 FIRE IN CLEVELAND

CLEVELAND, Dec. 30.—Authorities today were investigating the fire of undetermined origin which almost entirely destroyed the Gustave Schaefer Wagon company plant on the West Side here last night, causing the biggest fire loss in Cleveland in years, estimated at $400,000.

Probe Hickman Story

A "suicide" note found in one of his pockets was turned over to his widow without any attempt on the part of police to identify the handwriting. There was no inquest.

Concealed Crimes from Woman.

Mrs. Carrie M. Driskell, 42-year-old widow of the aged merchant and the step-grandmother of Hunt, reported Driskell as missing at 10 o'clock in the morning. His body was found under the "suicide bridge" later in the same day.

Follow the Confessions of Hickman and Hunt.

Mrs. Driskell was questioned by the sheriff's office but was released. Both boys, in their confessions, said they had concealed their crimes from Mrs. Driskell, but that the grandfather "surmised" there was something wrong.

FIRE DAMAGES CLYDE LINER

Pier and Smaller Craft Destroyed at Hoboken.

NEW YORK, Dec. 30.—The Clyde liner, Seneca, was damaged to the extent of half a million dollars, the lower section of Lackawanna pier No. 11 consumed and a number of smaller craft destroyed when fire broke out on the Eleventh street dock, Hoboken, today.

VET OHIO RIVER MAN IS DEAD

GALLIPOLIS, O., Dec. 30.—Capt. Charles W. Watson, 75-year river man, was dead today, having succumbed to illness at his home late yesterday. Capt. Watson was an engineer on Ohio river steamboats for 50 years, operating between Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Nashville and New Orleans.

Check Up Another Killing.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Dec. 30.—William Edward Hickman, confessed kidnaper and killer of little Marion Parker, was dead today, having succumbed to illness at his home late yesterday. Capt. Watson was an engineer on Ohio river steamboats for 50 years, operating between Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Nashville and New Orleans.

DAMASCUS PASSERS DOWN MIDLAND COLLEGIANS

OHIOANS SCORE CLOSE VICTORY IN STEEL CITY

Substituting for Mullen Team, They Win, 37-35.

EXCITING BATTLE

Grice and Rackenbaugh Stellar Performers for Visitors.

In a nip and tuck battle during which the lead changed hands several times, Damascus, O., passers scored a one-basket victory over Midland Collegians in Lincoln gym last night, averaging their two-point defeat at the hands of the Steel City cagers last season. Scores were 37-35.

The Ohio quintet was scheduled at the last moment by Manager Lawrence White through the aid of Manager Blye of the Salem, O., Mullen plant five which unexpectedly cancelled their game.

Uncanny ability of Grice and Rackenbaugh, Ohio forwards, to cage the ball from all angles of the floor was largely responsible for the Ohio team's success.

Collegians had difficulty in finding the basket on many easy shots. Damascus set the pace at the quarter and at the half by slight margins. Midland went into the lead at the end of the third period, and in the last frame the heavy end of the score shifted from one team to another with rapidity.

Shooting from the middle of the floor and looping them in over his head, Grice, who was high scorer of the battle, accounted for six baskets. Rackenbaugh, Damascus' other flashy forward, garnered five hoops.

Black and Slater scored five each for the Collegians, and Reese, substituting for Wayne with a whale of a game, roped in four.

Each quintet sank five foals out of 11 attempts. Summary: F. G. T. Damascus—37. Grice, f. 8 1 17. Rackenbaugh, f. 5 2 12. Oesch, c. 1 2 4. Wade, g. 2 0 4. F. Coy, g. 0 0 0.

WOMEN WILL DONATE WINDOW

Presbyterian Unit to Give $1,000 to Church.

Decision to pay the cost of the large stained glass window over the main entrance of the new Presbyterian church was made by members of the Ladies' society at a recent meeting at the home of Mrs. B. C. Colcord, Ohio avenue.

The window, which portrays the good shepherd, was installed at a cost of approximately $1,000. Tentative plans were also made by the society for its dedication week service to be held January 31. Arrangements were made for a supper to be served the ladies by men of the congregation, followed by a program by the women.

C. E. SOCIETY MEETS TONIGHT

Monthly meeting of the Senior Christian Endeavor society of the Presbyterian church will be held to night at the home of Miss May Edminston, Eighth street. Miss Geraldine McCarthy is chairlady on charge of the social diversions.

PRESBYTERIAN CAGERS WIN

Rally in Second Half Downs Methodist Quint.

Scoring rally in the second half turned defeat into a 13-9 victory for Presbyterians over Methodist Episcopal church five in the Midland church league's preliminary to the Collegians' court battle in Lincoln gym last night.

Tide turned for the Presbyterians when Low was returned to the game in the second frame. He turned in three of his team's five baskets, all of which were collected in the second half.

At the end of the half the Methodists were leading 4-1. Graham and Pulmer topped the M. E. scoring column.

Summary: Presbyterians 13. F. G. T. Keeney, f. capt. 0 1 1. Moll, f. 0 0 0. Reynolds, f. 1 0 2. Douglas, f. 0 1 1. Law, c. 3 0 6. High, g. 1 1 3. Reed, g. 0 0 0. A. Reynolds, g. 0 0 0.

Elks Hit Winning Stride In Toppling Salem League Rivals

STAVE OFF VISITORS' LAST QUARTER RALLY

Antlers Successfully Repulse Motors' Attack on Third Place in County Amateur Cage League Race.

Hitting their real stride for the first time during the campaign, East Liverpool Elks last night defeated the Salem Althouse Studebakers, 45 to 33, in a county league contest on the local court.

The Antlers developed a superior passwork and general all-around team play.

Only in the first five minutes of the final period did the visitors make it warm for the Potters when they cut the Elks' lead from 17 points to a mere four. But their rally was short-lived and the locals swung into scoring form again to boost the margin in the closing minutes.

Flip broke the ice with a shot from scrimmage and Pusey followed with a two-pointer for the locals. The Elks then went into the lead when Wilson, Canne and McConville scored in succession, sending the tally 8 to 2. Flip came back with his second bucket for Salem. Canne and Wilson replied with one apiece and the count stood 12 to 4 at the end of the initial period.

Elks Pile Up Big Lead.
The Elks maintained a similar scoring pace in the second quarter. Grafton counted for the visitors and then Grafton and Judge came through with foul line points. Wilson registered another double pointer for the Elks and Debnar counted from the floor for Salem. Pusey, Wilson and McConville caged the ball in order and the Elks lead went to 10 points. McCutcheon tossed in a foul and Debnar, of Salem, scored the final field goal of the half, the score being 21 to 12 at the intermission.

The Elks added 12 more points to their total in the third period while the Autos were getting four. Pusey, Wilson, Canne and McConville contributed Antler points while Saunders and Flip counted for Salem.

When the period ended, the local quint was leading by a score of 33 to 16 and had only to play a defensive game to be certain of victory.

But the final quarter was the fastest of the entire game and Seids' aggression came close to upsetting the whole works.

Debnar and Saunders sailed into the basket right off the reel, raining the ball off the hoop. Before the onslaught had been checked somewhat the Autos had piled 13 points on top of the 16 with which they had finished the previous period.

The Antlers took time out and called a session of the board of strategy.

Check Salem Rally.
After that they resumed their former stride and took the play away from the enemy five. Pusey, Crawford, McCutcheon and Wilson came through with two-pointers to put the game on ice.

All the Elks were up on their toes last night. Wilson and Pusey filtered through the opposition ranks for 13 baskets, Carl collecting seven and Tommy six. Canne signed off with four even. The defense work of McCutcheon, McCutcheon and Crawford was a big factor, too, in the victory, the Salem forwards getting a total of five field goals, four of which came in the concluding quarter. Flip, Saunders and Debnar were the outstanding performers for the visitors, Debnar leading the counting.

In a preliminary clash Laughlin Aces nosed out the Irondale Independents by a score of 35 to 31. The Potters held the lead during the most of the contest. Jester and McCutcheon did most of the scoring for the visitors.

GODFREY-HANSEN BOUT NEXT MONTH
NEW YORK, Dec. 30.—Despairing of obtaining fistic plums here, Knute Hansen and George Godfrey have signed for a bout in Philadelphia on Jan. 23.—This will be Godfrey's first big fight since he was outpointed by Jack Sharkey in Boston more than a year ago. Other leading heavyweights have drawn the color line against him.

Goes Back to Ring Where 2 Met Death

Drama Marks Taylor's Return to Garden Arena.

By Davis J. Walsh.
NEW YORK, Dec. 29.—Bud Taylor, most consistent of all fighters before the public today unless you care to make an exception in the case of Gene Tunney himself and no other, will meet Tony Canzoneri tonight at Madison Square Garden in a ten-round bout that will decide two interesting points, one of which bears the aspect of downright drama. It was almost four years ago to the month that Taylor for fists flying and cold grey eyes for fists flying, knocked Frankie Jerome in a flash, knocking him into a state of unconsciousness from which nearly every victim emerges, Frankie didn't. He died that night in Bellevue hospital.

For four years, Taylor has gone right on fighting the best and the worst in all sections of the land but he fought none of them in the garden ring. Tonight, he will return to the auspices under which the tragedy was enacted, although another garden and another ring since has risen up to replace the old.

Perhaps Taylor had other reasons for not appearing at the club which witnessed the first of two fatal finishes in which he has been an innocent principal. The other resulted in the death of Clever Sencio, Filipino, and the writer feels certain that Taylor never returned to fight again at the scene of that tragedy. Somehow, too, suspect that Taylor's avoidance of the garden was equally intentional.

Make Canzoneri Favorite.
But they finally are getting him back there tonight and I, among many thousands, am anxious to see just how he comports himself. My guess is that Taylor, an unimaginative young man with remarkable nerve control, will do it well.

Apparently, however, the gamblers are not so certain of this point. They have made Canzoneri a 7 to 5 favorite in the betting quite regardless of the fact that Taylor already holds a decision over Tony and has fought one draw with him in preceding engagements. Tony had to make weight the first two times; he won't tonight. Maybe that accounts for the odds.

Handicapping and form sheets, however, should make Bud no worse than an even money bet, so I must assume that his return to the club has so obviously avoided has also influenced the odds.

In other words, local gamblers are getting psychological and all I have to say is that they were tough enough in the first place.

Speaking of the first place recalls the fact that I mentioned a second point, hitherto unaccounted for. It is that the Taylor-Canzoneri match will proceed some distance in unmaking the featherweight championship muddle. Taylor already is bantamweight champion in every place where they insist on thinking first and talking afterward. He pretty thoroughly can establish a claim to the featherweight title by beating Canzoneri; in fact, that goes for both the principles.

Bass Files Claim.
Benny Bass, of Philadelphia, happens to be in with a prior claim, but this happens to be boxing, not gold mining, and so Benjamin really cannot hope to get anywhere unless he sees fit to dispose of tonight's survivor, Benjamin, I understand, is a bit miffed at the local commission and may not care to play in our back yard but if they show him the money and the unqualified title, he ought to be nice.

In any event, it begins to look as though the featherweight class soon will have a real leader and tonight's work, if not actually starting the ball rolling, at least will give it a first class nudge on the stitches.

Giant Model Same Little Change is Forecast in McGraw Machine For 1928

Broadway, however, isn't worried. Broadway believes Muggsy McGraw some time before the flies begin to zoom toward center field, will have installed a Cobb ignition system and perhaps a Speaker transmission in his 1928 Giant machine.

You Can't Fool Broadway.
McGraw hasn't admitted this. Rather, he has discouraged talk of the Giants acquiring the high-priced Ty and the costly Tris. He has pointed out that both men are still member of clubs of another league, and that as long as they are he has no business to make eyes at them with the view of luring them to the Giants.

Broadway knows, or at least Broadway thinks it knows, that McGraw wants very badly a "counter attraction" to the Yankees' great vaudeville team of Buster and the Babe. Giant fans still think that Cobb and

Speaker would make Polo grounds turnstiles click with much of the coin now going to the Yanks.

If the Giants in the main resemble the Giants of last season there are still some parts that are brand new and some of these are bright and shining with much promise.

In the Giant reserve list for 1928, recently made public, one sees the once great names of Rogers Hornsby and Eddie Roush. If these two boys could by some chance have their best season next year, the Giants are the most dangerous team in the league.

Muggsy's veteran pitchers are Virgil Barnes, Larry Benton, Bill Clarkston, Fred Fitzsimmons, Burleigh Grimes and Frank Henry. That quintet is capable of some prize pitching.

To this layout of mound talent McGraw has added Jim Faulkner of Toronto, Leo Mangum of Buffalo, Chester Nichols of Jersey City, Jake Levy of Charlotte, N. C., Jess Doyle of Toronto and several other highly touted boys.

Zach Taylor and Al Devormer, with Jack Cummings, are his veteran receivers, but Muggsy has also the remarkable young Mr. Bill Barrett, acquired from Knoxville.

Has Strong Infield
In the infield are, of course, Hornsby and Travis Jackson, Bill Terry, Freddy Lindstrom and Andy Reese. The sensational Pat Crawford of Greenville, S. C., and young Andy Cohen, Buffalo, are two of his likely looking rookies in this department.

The outfield now boasts Roush, Met Ott, Heinie Muesler, Les Mann and George Harper. But then the promising Frank O'Doul of San Francisco, Art John of Los Angeles, Joe Klinger of Norfolk and Chick Fullis of Macon are also listed.

If McGraw could put Cobb and Speaker in that outfit with Eddie Roush, and they all surprised everyone with a good year—well, the 1928 Giants would be a sensation that would make the Yankees look to their laurels.

Sportraits

JOHNNY FARRELL, the debonair young New York golfer, set a new record for winning major tournaments during the past year, with a total of eight, six of them in succession. They include the Metropolitan, Eastern, Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, Wheeling and Philadelphia open championships.

County Cage League

U P until today there have been two county league teams basking in the rays of the spotlight at the head of the six-club parade. Tomorrow there will be one. Because tonight Damascus and Salineville, undefeated in three starts apiece, will tangle at Damascus and, barring a postponement, the game will place the league leadership squarely in the hands of one or the other.

Tommy Cartwright's Salineville Kitmans have hung the scalps of the Lisbon, East Liverpool and Wellsville clubs to their belts while Alton Bye's Quakers have failed to encounter an upset in games with Lisbon, Wellsville and Salem. So this, then will be the first "crucial" battle of the season.

FOOTBALL WEEK TO END TODAY

NEW YORK, Dec. 30.—"Football week" in New York will end today with the annual meeting of the coaches. Following a closed session this morning, the mentors were to conduct an open forum this afternoon. Vigorous criticism of some of the existing gridiron rules is expected to be made.

Rocco - Seifert Set for Battle At Youngstown

Heavyweights in Return Bout Monday Afternoon.

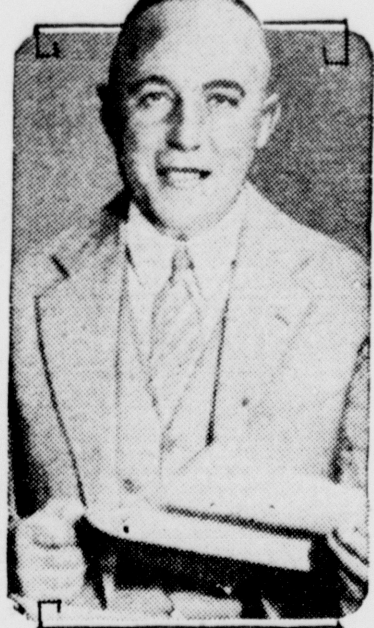

YOUNGSTOWN, Dec. 30.—The last obstacle to the coming battle between Emmett Rocco and Sandy Seifert for the afternoon of January 2 at the Rayen-Wood Auditorium, has been overcome by the receipt of Seifert's certified forfeit check by the Youngstown Boxing Commission.

After putting up one of the best battles ever staged here between two big fellows, these two lads were signed for a later date. Injuries of Seifert caused Promoter Zill to cancel on two different occasions. This time, however, the Ohio State Boxing Commission and the New York body have joined hands in handing Seifert an ultimatum of "no fight, you get an indefinite suspension." There will be a fight.

That Zill is the kind of a lad who tries to please the fighters who work for him as well as the public who patronize him, is best attested by the fact that he met every requirement that Seifert and his board of strategy could think of to keep these two lads apart.

They wanted more time for Sandy to get into good shape. He got it. They wanted a longer distance, and this time they got twelve in place of the usual ten. He asked for more money, and he got that also, so that he hasn't a leg to stand on and has to go through with this battle.

Would Out-Tex Tex

Humbert J. Fugazy, Brooklyn's premier fistic promoter, has announced plans for a $5,000,000 sports arena to be built in New York. According to Fugazy the new building will more than rival Madison Square Garden, the bailiwick of George L. "Tex" Rickard.

Two four-rounders are billed, the first of which will feature Jackie Powers and Kike Goldman in a return match. The second one will bring together Buddy Bolender and Young Nanci. The first six rounder will feature Frankie Van and Johnny Dunn, and K. O. Christener and some opponent yet to be named.

Northwestern Hangs Up First Win Over Irish

Purple Horde in Rampage in Riotous Celebration.

EVANSTON, Ill., Dec. 30.—Northwestern western victory was on a rampage today. The reason—Northwestern's first basketball victory over Notre Dame!

More than 8,000 fans, all that could jam their way into Patten gymnasium, last night saw the Wildcats chalk up a 25 to 23 triumph over the rambling Irish five. It was the Purple's first win in ten tries against Notre Dame.

The Wildcats won because they functioned with excellent team work and never quit fighting. Twice they fought their way from behind, determined to break Notre Dame's string of nine consecutive victories. At one time the Irish held a lead of 17 to 10.

The climax of the bitter struggle came half way through the second half when Capt. Waldo Fisher of Northwestern was banished from the game after four personal fouls had been called on him.

That put a hair-line edge on the Wildcats' fighting front, and from that time on, excepting only Donovan's foul shot, the Irish were held scoreless.

In the final eight minutes, which looked more like a battle royal than a basketball game, neither team scored.

ART INSTITUTE GETS MILLION

Joseph G. Butler Will Provides Bequests.

YOUNGSTOWN, Dec. 30.—A bequest of $900,000 to $2,000,000 was made to the Butler Art Institute here according to the terms of the will of Joseph G. Butler, philanthropist, and pioneer steel man, who died last week.

The will suggests an auditorium seating 1,500 persons, be built for the institute. Bequests included $100,000 endowment for Niles, McKinley's birthplace memorial; $50,000 to Youngstown hospital; $10,000 to St. Elizabeth's hospital here and $5,000 to Christ mission settlement here. Relatives and employees also were included in the testament but amounts were not made public.

CUTTER SINKS, 26 MEN SAVED

Rum-chaser Goes Down in Collision With Tanker.

NEW YORK, Dec. 30.—Twenty-six men comprising the crew of the coast guard cutter Rush, which was sunk in Ambrose channel late last night in a collision with the Standard Oil company tanker J. A. Moffett Jr., were brought ashore safely early today by the crews of two other cutters. The tanker, bound for Corpus Christi, Texas, was struck by the Rush in the fog. The cutter sank rapidly and the crew took to the boats. The Rush, a rum-chaser, was formerly a destroyer. It was on patrol duty.

Elks Hit Winning Stride In Toppling Salem League Rivals

STAVE OFF VISITORS' LAST QUARTER RALLY

Antlers Successfully Repulse Motors' Attack on Third Place in County Amateur Cage League Race.

Hitting their real stride for the first time during the campaign, East Liverpool Elks last night defeated the Salem Althouse Studebakers, 45 to 33, in a county league contest on the local court.

The Antlers developed a superior passwork and general all-around team play.

Only in the first five minutes of the final period did the visitors make it warm for the Potters when they cut the Elks' lead from 17 points to a mere four. But their rally was short lived and the locals swung into scoring form again to boost the margin in the closing minutes.

Flip broke the ice with a shot from scrimmage and Pusey followed with a two-pointer for the locals. The Elks then went into the lead when Wilson, Canne and McConville scored in succession, sending the tally 8 to 2. Flip came back with his second bucket for Salem. Canne and Wilson replied with one apiece and the count stood 12 to 4 at the end of the initial period.

The Elks maintained a similar scoring pace in the second quarter. Grafton counted for the visitors and then Grafton and Judge came through with four free points. Wilson registered another double pointer for the Elks and Debnar counted from the floor for Salem. Pusey, Wilson and McConville caged the ball in order and the Elks lead went to 10 points. McCutcheon tossed in a foul and Debnar, of Salem, scored the final field goal of the half, the score being 21 to 12 at the intermission.

The Elks added 12 more points to their total in the third period while the Autos were getting four. Pusey, Wilson, Canne and McConville contributed Antler points while Saunders and Flip counted for Salem.

When the period ended, the local quint was leading by a score of 33 to 16 and had only to play a defensive game to be certain of victory.

But the final quarter was the fastest of the entire game and Seids' aggression came close to upsetting the whole works. Debnar and Saunders sailed into the basket right off the reel, raining the ball off the hoop. Before the onslaught had been checked somewhat the Autos had piled 13 points on top of the 16 with which they had finished the previous period.

The Antlers took the one out and called a session of the board of strategy.

Check Salem Rally. After that they resumed their former stride and took the play away from the enemy five. Pusey, Crawford, McCutcheon and Wilson came through with two-pointers to put the game on ice.

All the Elks were up on their toes last night. Wilson and Pusey filtered through the opposition ranks for 15 baskets, Carl collecting seven and Tommy six. Canne signed off with four even. The defense work of McCutcheon, McCutcheon and Crawford was a big factor, too, in the victory, the Salem forwards getting a total of five field goals, four of which came in the concluding quarter. Flip, Saunders and Debnar were the outstanding performers for the visitors, Debnar leading the counting.

In a preliminary clash Laughlin Acemes nosed out the Irondale Independents by a score of 35 to 31. The Potters held the lead during the most of the contest. Jester and McKeever did most of the scoring for the visitors.

GODFREY-HANSEN BOUT NEXT MONTH

NEW YORK, Dec. 30.—Despairing of obtaining fistic plums here, Knute Hansen and George Godfrey have signed for a bout in Philadelphia on Jan. 23.—This will be Godfrey's first big fight since he was outpointed by Jack Sharkey in Boston more than a year ago. Other leading heavyweights have drawn the color line against him.

Giant Model Same

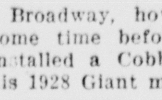

Little Change is Forecast in McGraw Machine For 1928

NEW YORK, Dec. 30.—And the respectful silence of stalled subway trains and derailed elevated coaches, John J. McGraw, for many years New York's leading baseball impresario, unveiled his 1928 model of the Giants.

No gasp of delighted surprise thrilled Broadway nor was ticker tape cast in abandon from Wall street skyscraper windows, for the 1928 Giants look a very great deal like the 1927 model.

The 1927 machine will be remembered for its colorlessness. It was no championship outfit, nor did it win the championship. The engine was slow in starting, and when the Master Mind finally got his outfit hitting along all cylinders the parade was so far ahead the Giants were out of it. And right now the 1928 Giants are pretty well much the same team.

Broadway, however, isn't worried. Broadway believes Muggsy McGraw some time before the flies begin to zoom toward center field, will have installed a Cobb ignition system and perhaps a Speaker transmission in his 1928 Giant machine.

You Can't Fool Broadway.

McGraw hasn't admitted this. Rather, he has discouraged talk of the Giants acquiring the high-priced Ty and the costly Tris. He has pointed out that both men are still member of clubs of another league, and that as long as they are he has no business to make eyes at them with the view of luring them to the Giants.

Broadway knows, or at least Broadway thinks it knows, that McGraw wants very badly a "counter attraction" to the Yankees' great vaudeville team of Buster and the Babe. Giant fans still think that Cobb and

Speaker would make Polo grounds turnstiles click with much of the coin now going to the Yanks.

If the Giants in the main resemble the Giants of last season there are still some parts that are brand new and some of these are bright and shining with much promise.

In the Giant reserve list for 1928, recently made public, one sees the once great names of Rogers Hornsby and Eddie Roush. If these two boys could by some chance have their best season next year, the Giants are the most dangerous team in the league.

Muggsy's veteran pitchers are Virgil Barnes, Larry Benton, Bill Clarkston, Fred Fitzsimmons, Burleigh Grimes and Frank Henry. That quintet is capable of some prize pitching.

To this layout of mound talent McGraw has added Jim Faulkner of Toronto, Leo Mangum of Buffalo, Chester Nichols of Jersey City, Jake Levy of Charlotte, N. C., Jess Doyle of Toronto and several other highly touted boys.

Zach Taylor and Al Devoorn, with Jack Cummings, are his veteran receivers, but Muggsy has also the remarkable young Mr. Bill Barrett, acquired from Knoxville.

Has Strong Infield

In the infield are, of course, Hornsby and Travis Jackson, Bill Terry, Freddy Lindstrom and Andy Reese. The sensational Pat Crawford of Greenville, S. C., and young Andy Cohen, Buffalo, are two of his likely looking rookies in this department.

The outfield now boasts Roush, Mel Ott, Heinie Muesler, Les Mann and George Harper. But then the promising Frank O'Doul of San Francisco, Art John of Los Angeles, Joe Klinger of Norfolk and Chick Fullis of Macon are also listed.

If McGraw could put Cobb and Speaker in that outfit with Eddie Roush, and they all surprised everyone with a good year—well, the 1928 Giants would be a sensation that would make the Yankees look to their laurels.

County Cage League

UP until today there have been two county league teams basking in the rays of the spotlight at the head of the six-club parade.

Tomorrow there will be one. Because tonight Damascus and Salineville, undefeated in three starts apiece, will tangle at Damascus and, barring a postponement, the game will place the league leadership squarely in the hands of one or the other.

Tommy Cartwright's Salineville Kwanians have hung the scalp of the Lisbon, East Liverpool and Wellsville clubs to their belts while Alton Bye's Quakers have failed to encounter an upset in games with Lisbon, Wellsville and Salem. So this, then will be the first "crucial" battle of the season.

FOOTBALL WEEK TO END TODAY

NEW YORK, Dec. 30.—"Football week" in New York will end today with the annual meeting of the coaches. Following a closed session this morning, the mentors were to conduct an open forum this afternoon. Vigorous criticism of some of the existing gridiron rules is expected to be made.

Rocco - Seifert Set for Battle At Youngstown

Heavyweights in Return Bout Monday Afternoon.

YOUNGSTOWN, Dec. 30.—The last obstacle to the coming battle between Emmett Rocco and Sandy Seifert for the afternoon of January 2 at the Rayen-Wood Auditorium, has been overcome by the receipt of Seifert's certified forfeit check by the Youngstown Boxing Commission.

After putting up one of the best battles ever staged here between two big fellows, these two lads were signed for a later date. Injuries of Seifert caused Promoter Zill to cancel on two different occasions. This time, however, the Ohio State Boxing Commission and the New York body have joined hands in handing Seifert an ultimatum of "no fight, you get an indefinite suspension." There will be a fight.

That Zill is the kind of a lad who tries to please the fighters who work for him as well as the public who patronize him, is best attested by the fact that he met every requirement that Seifert and his board of strategy could think of to keep these two lads apart.

They wanted more time for Sandy to get into good shape. He got it. They wanted a longer distance, and this time they got twelve in place of the usual ten. He asked for more money, and he got that also, so that he hasn't a leg to stand on and has to go through with this battle.

Would Out-Tex Tex

Humbert J. Fugazy, Brooklyn's premier fistic promoter, has announced plans for a $5,000,000 sports arena to be built in New York. According to Fugazy the new building will more than rival Madison Square Garden, the bailiwick of George L. "Tex" Rickard.

Two four-rounders are billed, the first of which will feature Jackie Powers and Mike Goldman in a return match. The second one will bring together Buddy Bolender and Young Nanci. The first six rounder will feature Frankie Van and Johnny Dunn, and K. O. Christener and some opponent yet to be named.

Northwestern Hangs Up First Win Over Irish

Purple Horde in Rampage in Riotous Celebration.

EVANSTON, Ill., Dec. 30.—Northwestern university was on a rampage today. The reason—Northwestern's first basketball victory over Notre Dame.

More than 8,000 fans, all that could jam their way into Patten gymnasium, last night saw the wildcats chalk up a 25 to 23 triumph over the rambling Irish five. It was the Purple's first win in ten tries against Notre Dame. The Wildcats won because they functioned with excellent team work and never quit fighting. Twice they fought their way from behind, determined to break Notre Dame's string of nine consecutive victories. At one time the Irish held a lead of 17 to 10.

The climax of the bitter struggle came half way through the second half when Capt. Waldo Fisher of Northwestern was banished from the game after four personal fouls had been called on him.

That put a hair-line edge on the Wildcats' fighting front, and from that time on, excepting only Donovan's foul shot, the Irish were held scoreless.

In the final eight minutes, which looked more like a battle royal than a basketball game, neither team scored.

ART INSTITUTE GETS MILLION

Joseph G. Butler
Will Provide Bequests.

YOUNGSTOWN, Dec. 30.—A bequest of $900,000 to $2,000,000 was made to the Butler Art Institute here according to the terms of the will of Joseph G. Butler, philanthropist, and pioneer steel man, who died last week.

The will suggests an auditorium seating 1,500 persons, be built for the institute. Bequests included $100,000 endowment for Niles, McKinley's birthplace memorial; $50,000 to Youngstown hospital; $10,000 to St. Elizabeth's hospital here and $5,000 to Christ mission settlement here. Relatives and employees also were included in the testament but amounts were not made public.

CUTTER SINKS, 26 MEN SAVED

Rum-chaser Goes Down in Collision With Tanker.

NEW YORK, Dec. 30.—Twenty-six men comprising the crew of the coast guard cutter Rush, which was sunk in Ambrose channel late last night in a collision with the Standard Oil company tanker J. A. Moffett Jr., were brought ashore safely early today by the crews of two other cutters.

The tanker, bound for Corpus Christi, Texas, was struck by the Rush in the fog. The cutter sank rapidly and the crew took to the boats.

The Rush, a rum-chaser, was formerly a destroyer. It was on patrol duty.

A red nose is no longer a sign of drink. He may have a girl who uses rouge.—Coshon Tribune.

GOV. AL SMITH IS 54 TODAY

ALBANY, Dec. 30.—Friends of Governor Smith have prepared a surprise for him when he sits down to his birthday dinner tonight. On the table before him will appear a monster white cake, a replica of the White House. The governor will be 54 years old.

ATHLETICS PAY BIG DIVIDENDS

CHICAGO, Dec. 30.—Athletic enterprises controlled by the Illinois boxing commission have netted the state $338,836.59 during the fiscal year ended Dec. 1, according to the report of acting chairman Paul Prehn, made public today.

Of this amount, $249,189.16 was collected from one show—the Tunney-Dempsey battle at Soldier Field last September. A total of 1,630 exhibitions and matches were held during the year.

The total attendance was listed at 507,940.

Forfeits to the amount of $195,200 were handled by the commission, the report states. Ninety-two individuals and clubs were suspended for one cause or another and the license of one boxer was revoked.

It was the commission's "fattest" year since boxing and wrestling was reborn legally in the state three years ago.

FOUR-ROUNDERS ON CHICAGO CARD

CHICAGO, Dec. 30.—An unusual card will be offered fans who attend Joe Coffey's boxing carnival at the Coliseum tonight. Eleven bouts of four rounds each will be the menu. Bill Tate and Seal Harris, heavyweights, will fight the windup. Les Martin, former university of Illinois football player, making his professional boxing debut, and Mickey Smith of Chicago, will clash in the semi-windup.

AT SYRACUSE—Jackie Brady, Syracuse, scored technical knockout over Babe Ruth, Philadelphia, in seventh round.

AT PHILADELPHIA—Joe Kaufman, New York, won decision over Emory Cabana, Philadelphia lightweight (8).

Mike Schultz, Phila., drew with Johnny McAllister, Reading, Pa. (8).

OFFERS DELANEY CHOICE OF BOUTS

NEW YORK, Dec. 30.—Promoter Tex Rickard has offered Jack Delaney his choice of a bout with either Johnny Risko or Napoleon Jack Dorval in the heavy-weight elimination tournament.

The winner of this match will be signed to meet the survivor of the Tom Heeneey Jack Sharkey scrap next month.

The ultimate survivor will get a crack at Jack Dempsey, or at Gene Tunney if Dempsey decides not to return to the ring.

LAUGHLIN FIVE SEEKING GAMES

Laughlin Acme basketball club is looking for games in the Tri-State district and would like especially to book contests as preliminaries to Columbian County league contests.

On January 5, the Laughlins will play a return game with Irondele, on the Irondele court. Last night the Potters won from the Jeffersons in a preliminary to the Selem-East Liverpool clash.

Clarence Moore, who can be reached at 126 East Third street, or by phone, 2366-J, is manager.

M'GRAW BILLING SPRING GAMES

NEW YORK, Dec. 30.—The New York Giants will play at least twenty-three and possibly twenty-six exhibition games on their spring training trip next season. Most of the contests are with the Senators, Athletics and Red Sox. No National league clubs will be met.

A squad of twenty pitchers and catchers will report to Manager McGraw at Hot Springs, Ark., on Feb. 15. They will join the regular squad at Augusta, Ga., two weeks later.

The Way of the World

BY GROVE PATTERSON

SUICIDE

Since the old days when a suicide was buried at the cross roads, face down, with a stake through his heart, the idea of suicide has been abhorrent to the normal individual. But there is more than one kind of self-destruction. There is the suicide of inertia. Inertia is not merely a lack of motion. Inertia is a force—a force that resists a change of direction, a change of position. The clerk, adding his columns of figures year after year, traveling the rut into which he fell years before, is a victim of inertia. Persisted in without ambition, without progress, it is a kind of suicide. Inertia is sometimes the force that holds men on the path to nowhere.

HAPPINESS IN ACTION.

Those who have tried to find happiness by the route of rest are likely to be the first to agree with Clemenceau, wise old French statesman, who says: "The chief factor in the acquisition and retention of health and happiness is work. I have never loved anything so well as the joy of action. I am contented at the end of a day in proportion to the amount of action put into it, and my health seems to keep pace automatically with my action and my contentment. It all comes about naturally through the alchemy of work. All roads lead to Rome, but the only one which leads to self-realization and complete peace is the road of work."

REPRESENTATIVE GOVERNMENT.
There may be nothing wrong with the idea of democracy or representative government. The trouble we have with it lies in our failure to develop leadership or to trust what leadership we do develop. There is no point or purpose in spreading power among large numbers. Good government comes from the centralization of power in the hands of those who are intelligent and who are to be trusted.

FALLACIES

One of the fallacies in economics is that natural resources make for prosperity. If this were true China and Russia would be the most prosperous places on the globe. It takes initiative and daring to develop natural resources if a country is to become rich. It is the same with the individual. A man may be rich in natural resources. He may have a good mind and much information. He may occupy a good position in life and have much opportunity, but if he is mentally lazy—as most men are—he will fail. The possession of natural resources, with no plowing and no cultivating, is tragical.

How the Other Half Behaves

Modern David

NEW YORK CITY—Nothing was so much as a modern Goliath after the ungentle attentions of an irate David, a man, weighing about 210 pounds appeared before Magistrate Corrigan. He told him was David in the case, his 100-pound son, Julius, an errand boy. "When I came home last night I found this big—er, well, you know—beating my mother with a chair. He's gone before, and so I waited until him, that's all." Magistrate Corrigan ordered the boy released. Leaving the courtroom the boy turned to the offender. "And don't do it again, see? Cause I might get mad!"

Dog Race.

TOLEDO, O.—Patrolmen Egan and Burke did a Solomon recently when they were called to separate two women who engaged in a hair-pulling match over the ownership of a dog. "Have you got a license?" they asked one woman. She shook her head. So did her opponent. "Well, now, let's see," mused the policeman. "I got it" one exclaimed. "The first one of you to get a license gets the dog." The women agreed it was a fair solution and began a race for the license bureau.

CHAPTER XX.

Bob laughed softly. "I'm all right, Todd. What makes you think I'm not?"

"Didn't say I thought so. I just wondered."

"Why?"

"Well, hein' your buddle—an' havin' knowed you pretty good down yonder, I wondered what was brewin'. Seems like we ain't had a good heart-to-heart talk for a thunderin' long time. Just sort of wanted to know how things stood."

"I'm here. Ask me."

"We-e-ll, first of all—you don't hate Peter Borden like you did."

"The lad's face purpled in the darkness. His voice was quiet—and convincing. 'I loathe him! That hatred is part of me. I don't think I'll ever get over it.'"

"Todd felt an exaltation. 'But you ain't aimin' to do him no harm, are you?'"

"What can I do? I was willing to steal from him—but what's the use, when he'll give me anything I want? It would be rotten to beat him up; he's an old man, and just fool enough to take it without whining. And then—" Bob closed his lips sharply.

"Then—what?"

"Lois has been very nice to me. I've got to consider her."

"Sure you do, Son. Sure you do. That's what I wanted to find out. Point is, if you had a good square chance to even things up with Borden, would you do it—or would you let your friendship for his daughter prevent?"

"Bob did not immediately answer. He had threshed out the question a thousand times, and never to his own satisfaction."

"I think," he said slowly, "that I'd do it. I'd like to see that man suffer. God knows I would. But there isn't any way—"

"Reckon there ain't. But let's talk of something else. Golly, Boy! It's been a long time since we smiled a real lot of words to each other. How you gittin' along at the office?"

"Fine. Al Gregory says I'm good. Wants me to start reading law."

"Why not?"

"I think I shall. But I don't like Gregory."

"They say he'll be governor some day."

"I know. But he's crooked as a snake. Just like a snake. Carmody is crooked too; but everybody knows it—and he laughs 'em down and dares 'em to come after him. Al Gregory is mushy-mouthed and scary. He won't take his chances in the open. Between you and me, I think a damned sight more of the yeggs and stick-up men I talk to every day than I do to that golden-haired, big-voiced, cheap politician."

"You'd rather see a man be an honest crook, eh?"

"Yes. Do his stuff and take his chances. But not hide behind some one else."

"They talked of things in general. Todd studiously avoiding any reference to Kathleen. He was afraid that he might blunder."

"It was late when they separated. Todd's brain was more active than it had been in years. He sensed things that he had not yet analyzed, and one of them was that if the day of Bob's revenge on Peter Borden was delayed too long—it would never come. Bob talked loudly of his hatred, but he was undeniably softening."

"Todd Shannon loved the boy. He loved Kathleen even more. And in his simple, heavy way, he believed that they would be happy with each other."

"It behooved him, therefore, to do what he could to remove all possibility of a marriage between Terry and Lois Borden. And the surest method for achieving that end would be to help Bob crush Peter Borden. Todd knew that Lois would never forgive."

"The following morning, he was standing in the lobby of the big office building when the immaculate little figure of John Carmody shoved through the door. Todd stepped forward."

"Just a minute, Mr. Carmody."

"Yes, Shannon? What is it?"

"I waited down here for you—didn't want Kathleen to see us talkin'. Might want to know what about."

"He cleared his throat. 'Remember what we were discussin' the other day?'"

"Carmody appeared bewildered."

"What?"

"Bob Terry and old man Borden."

"Oh, that? Yes, indeed."

"I been doin' a heap of thinkin', Mr. Carmody. And I've kind of decided this away: It things slide to slough that bimbo. He's gittin' soft. Dunno why—but there's some reason. Right now he's ready. It seems like if you could think of something, something that'll make old Borden squirm. You do that, and I'll see to it that Bob does what you advise. That is, if it ain't put off too long. How about it?"

"We-e-ll—" Carmody, inwardly exultant, seemed undecided. "It sounds like a very good idea. I'll see what I can find out. You'll hear from me—perhaps."

"And on the way up in the elevator, Carmody's thin lips expanded."

"Things are dovetailin'," he told himself. "A great deal better than that monstrous idiot suspects."

"Bob Terry was dazed. All evening he had chatted with Lois Borden about nothing in particular, yet all evening he had been conscious of a tense undercurrent."

"Lois Borden was in love with him. Humble and modest as he was, there was no escaping that fact once his eyes had been opened to the possibility. And Bob was merely human."

"A man is in a difficult position when he realizes that a girl—young, beautiful and possessed of all that makes life worth while—is in love with him. He is naturally flattered and instinctively responsive."

"But Bob tried to be loyal to Kathleen in his thoughts. All evening long he had been telling himself doggedly that Kathleen was his type and Lois was not. He reminded himself time and again that he was pledged to Kathleen. Yet every so often his eyes would wander to the slim, golden creature at his side and his heart would quicken with the knowledge that she was his for the asking."

cotton and the manufacture of cotton shirts; the heavy, stolid, good-natured company of Todd Shannon; the sulky, subdued companionship of convicted criminals—

All through the evening Bob and Lois had talked in generalities. Nothing of particular importance had been said, yet each was conscious that they had skirted the pool of the personal. And each knew that the other knew it. Kathleen hovered always in the background—big black eyes filled with quiet reproach. The entrance of Peter Borden was a relief.

Borden was nervous. Under his arm he carried a brief case. He nodded to Bob and went immediately in the library, where he opened the brief case and spread out on the table a sheet of papers liberally covered with figures. There was something else in the brief case—an unpretentious packet which Borden took to the wall safe.

Then he went back to his figures again, after spinning the antiquated dial of the safe.

It was Saturday night, a night when all the city was downtown on pleasure bent. Moving picture theatres were doing a land office business, the day in and day out; the spinning of edifice which housed the city's stock company did not have a vacant seat. Out at the river, the amusement park, recently opened, was jammed with revelers who shouted with glee as they plunged the dips of the roller coaster or came near breaking their backs on other riding devices.

But on this Saturday night a man and a girl sat together and talked of nothing—meaning much; an elderly man studied the tabulations of a business report and worried about the future—and in her lonely room another girl brooded by the window and wondered—and wondered—

Lois' eyes sought the stern, set face of her father. Borden had not been himself recently. He was reserved and preoccupied. She knew that things had not been going well at the plant. There had been frequent meetings of the board of directors, and more than one clash between her father and Jonas Merriwether. She made an excuse and went to him, running her long, slender fingers through his thinning hair.

"Don't you ever rest, Dad?"

He smiled wanly.

"Not just now, Girl."

"But you should. That horrid plant"

Don't you know that Monday is Labor Day—and everybody is forgetting work until Tuesday?"

Borden sighed. "That's the advantage of being a simple laborer."

"But surely you're not going to sit up again tonight until two o'clock?"

"No. I promise."

Mr. Weather Man

Let the fashion magazines chat of Spring hats and airy crepe dinner gowns as much as they will. You and I know that you can't hoodwink Mr. Weather Man into believing that dog-days are just around the corner.

Some of the coldest of our winter days are right ahead, and if your work is carried on out-of-doors you must be especially careful to see that you are dressed warmly. Jack Frost is a rather rough playfellow, but a sturdy mackinaw or a horsehide vest will do wonders in outwitting his pranks.

If you don't work out-of-doors, then you must play there to keep healthy. Look over our stock of warm clothes. There will be plenty of days to wear them yet.

MIX AND HORSE AT AMERICAN

"Outlaws of Red River," A Western Thriller.

When Tom Mix and his wonder horse Tony are scheduled for a showing at any theatre, that theatre is sure to be packed. Yesterday was no exception at the American where Mix's latest Western thriller, "Outlaws of Red River," had its first presentation.

And again Tom Mix had every one gripping their seats in one of the most spectacular and daring series of episodes ever filmed. But this last may be misleading and give the impression that this picture is nothing but action, suspense and excitement. It is that, but interwoven into a story that is of vital importance and of sustained interest from beginning to end.

A bare outline can hardly do justice to the enthralling tale of the "Outlaws of Red River," which pictures the search of the Falcon, the most daring of the Texas Rangers for his foster son, who was abducted by bandits when both were children. This thrilling episode and the raid on the emigrant train when it took place, are shown in the prologue. Incidentally the part of Tom, then a lad of ten or twelve is played by Jimmy Downes, who gives a splendid characterization of the western star as a boy.

Tom's search for his childhood playmate reaches a climax when he discovers a beautiful young girl acting as a spy for the Outlaws of Red River, who signals the gang every time the stage coach bears treasure.

From here on the tempo of the story moves with an ever accelerated pace until it reaches a climax with the coming of the outlaws' stronghold by Tom and his runners with an armed coach and the rescue of the girl.

Marjorie Daw has the leading feminine role with a cast of screen favorites in other roles of importance. An outstanding feature of this production are the many beautiful scenes showing the California mountains and Cathedral Canyon.

"Outlaws of Red River" is a splendid entertainment which held every moment of the audience's attention, who witnessed the first showing yesterday.

Whippet will be the most valuable car ever offered for so little money

John H. Willys
President, The Willys-Overland Company

AFTER months of preparation, we are ready to present the perfected Whippet for 1928.

You will be satisfied and delighted with every detail of its equipment and performance. You will be amazed when you learn how low is the price. For Willys-Overland resources and equipment are now such that no car of equal quality can be built and sold at a lower price.

Engineering Leadership

Present light car standards are a tribute to the pioneering the Whippet has done. Four-wheel brakes—lower center of gravity—greater economy—greater roominess—quieter engines—faster speed and pick-up—greater beauty—no one today would think of buying a car that had not made these advances.

Many Added Features

Among the many things you will like in the 1928 Whippet are improved bodies in a wide variety of beautiful colors, and fitted with cadet-type visor, full crown fenders, an engine that doubles its rated horse-power, full pressure lubrication, silent timing chain, gasoline tank in rear, long, semi-elliptic springs, oversize balloon tires and snubbers, an adjustable steering wheel, automatic windshield wiper, rear view mirror and stop light.

Remarkable Records

Owners have driven and tested the Whippet for more than five hundred million miles. It has established record after record in proof of its superiority. It holds the A. A. A. Coast-to-Coast economy record, averaging 43.28 miles to the gallon. It set a record of 71.6 miles an hour in a speed test on Rockingham Park Speedway. It accelerates from 5 to 30 miles in 11.5 seconds; turns in a 17-foot radius, and parks in 14 feet of curb space.

We suggest you see the Whippet and get the new price next Friday.

CHAMPION BUILDER PLANS SIXTEENTH BIG BRIDGE

Ralph Modjeski, of Philadelphia, son of Mme. Helen Modjeska, the famous actress, has just completed the plans of his sixteenth bridge. This latest child of his engineer-brain will span the Delaware river six and a half miles northeast of the longest suspension bridge in the world, also built by Modjeski, connecting Camden and Philadelphia. Photos show the bridge engineer and two sketches of the proposed bridge.

BUSY SESSION FOR GRAND JURY

At the rate transcripts from lower courts are being filed with Clerk of Courts Frank Bullantine, it is expected the January grand jury will have more work to do than any other jury during the last 18 months. There were 20 indictments returned by the September grand jury, the last grand jury of record. Fifty cases were presented by Prosecuting Attorney Robert M. Brookes and 110 witnesses were examined.

TAX COLLECTION PLANS ARRANGED

Tax duplicates for all taxing districts in the county have been transferred from the county auditor's office to that of County Treasurer Fred George.

The usual rush in the treasurer's office will begin next Tuesday, as the office will close at noon Saturday and will remain closed Monday.

As is customary during the tax season rush, additional clerical help has been engaged temporarily in the treasurer's office.

Time for payment of taxes has been extended until January 20th by the county commissioners.

Land Leased.
The Alliance Brick company of Alliance has leased two tracts of land from Myler Duncan in Knox township for oil and gas drilling purposes. One tract contains 61 acres and another 67 acres. The property leased is not distant from the plant of the Alliance Brick company.

BEWARE THE COUGH OR COLD THAT HANGS ON

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

WASHINGTON STEWART'S LETTER

Enough is as good as a feast. —Senator Smoot.

Enough is very good may be; Too much is good enough for me. —Senator Simmons.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28. — How much of a tax cut?

"Enough," advises Senator Smoot, "to clean up most of the treasury surplus, without the risk of running the government into the hole for part of its next (fiscal) year's expenses."

"That is, 'roundabout the 225-million-dollar reduction that Secretary Mellon recommended and President Coolidge backed him up in."

"Enough," demands Senator Simmons, "to make dead sure of cleaning up the surplus, and who cares if it's a whole lot more, too? Uncle Sam's credit's good. We can always make up a deficit later. The taxpayer never does get back his money that goes into a surplus kitty."

AS Senator Smoot remarks, Secretary Mellon suggested a 225-million-dollar cut.

According to all rules, Congressman Bill Green, chairman of the house of representatives ways and means committee, which gives birth to all financial bills, ought, as a Republican, like Secretary Mellon, to have seen to it that the secretary's say-so was abided by. But he didn't. The committee decided Mellon had been a little stoney, and increased the cut to 232 million and some odd hundreds of thousands.

Even this didn't suit Congressman Garner, the committee's senior Democratic member. He labored with the house of representatives to give the reduction still another tilt, and the house, conscious that tax cuts are popular, shoved it up to 289 millions and a good bit odd—nearly 290.

IT was in this shape that the thing landed in the senate, where the finance committee of the latter body is now "rassling" with it.

The job of Reed Smoot, its chairman, the well known senator from Utah, a loyal "administration man," is to get the figure back as nearly as he can to Secretary Mellon's $250,000,000. Senator Furnifold M. Simmons, of North Carolina, senior Democratic committee member; on the other hand, proposes to boost it to $400,000,000, or as close to it as possible.

Simmons wouldn't stick at 500 or 600, but 400 is what the United States Chamber of Commerce is hollering for, therefore it's good mark to shoot at.

RATHER strangely, it may seem, the senate, which supposedly is decidedly more anti-administration than the house of representatives, isn't as like-

Two Pastors Assume Pulpits Here Sunday

Rev. J. H. Lawther, D. D., Niles, and Rev. W. T. McCandless, Monaca, Pa., to Conduct New Year's Services.

New pastors of two East Liverpool churches will assume charge of their pulpits at services on New Year's day. They are Rev. J. H. Lawther, D. D., Niles, who was recently called to the First Presbyterian church, and Rev. W. T. McCandless, Monaca, Pa., who has been named pastor of the Second United Presbyterian church. Rev. Mr. Lawther will return to Niles on January 8 or 15 when his resignation will be accepted by members of the Presbyterian church, where he has been pastor for about eight years. He will bring his wife and daughter to this city on or about February 1. The church trustees are now seeking a manse for the new pastor and his family. Steps have been taken to sell the residence in Vine street which was occupied by Dr. Donald MacLeod and his family. The church has been without a regular pastor since September when Dr. MacLeod left to accept a call to Boston, Mass. Rev. Mr. McCandless who comes to the Second United Presbyterian church at Monaca, moved his household furnishings here yesterday, occupying the manse in St. George street. The house has been redecorated throughout by the church board. Rev. Mr. McCandless will take the place of Dr. J. O. Campbell, who resigned last May to return to his former home in Darlington, Pa.

RALSTON HIT AT CERAMIC

"Figures Don't Lie," Rings Photoplay Bell.

Who furnishes the "punctuality, efficiency and good memory" of a good share of the modern successful American business men? Esther Ralston answers that question in convincing style in her new Paramount picture "Figures Don't Lie," which opened at the Ceramic theatre last night. It is a decidedly clever production.

Miss Ralston, as blonde and more beautiful than ever, plays the part of a private secretary who runs most of her employer's business and who finds a string around his finger an invaluable aid to his memory. She gets into all sorts of difficulties thru her Mack Shields and family, of Indianapolis; Mr. and Mrs. George Shields and family of Newton Falls, and Miss Lois Shields, of Polansbee, West Virginia.

Scott Stewart of Youngstown spent Christmas with his brother Lee Roy Stewart.

Mrs. Jessie Latta, Harold and Frederick Hanson returned to their home in Mayville, N. Y., after spending several days with Mr. and Mrs. Myron Haskins.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank McMillen and family, of East Palestine, and Misses Louise Sheely, Alice Eakin, and Mr. Larkin and Irwin Eakin of Toronto spent Saturday evening with Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Eakin.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Stubbs and son, Donald, of Alliance spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Roy Huff. Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Whitman visited recently with Mrs. Sarah Whitman in East Palestine.

Innocent efforts to keep the boss straight on all of his business engagements and almost gets shot by a jealous wife.

Then there is the dashing young sales manager, played by Richard Arlen, to add to the working girl's problems. She finds him a trial at times but he comes in mighty handy when he saves her from drowning in the surf and again when he keeps her from being shot by her employer's jealous crazed wife.

Ford Sterling takes the part of the absent minded business man and makes the most of his comedy possibilities. Blanche Payson plays the jealous wife in realistic fashion. Doris Hill, who has handled many leading parts, makes an impressive debut in a character role as Miss Ralston's chum while Natalie Kingston shows a fine figure to good advantage as a stenographer who tries to vamp the hero.

Edward Sutherland, the director who made "We're in the Navy Now," "Behind the Front" and "Firemen Save My Child" has turned out one of the most entertaining pictures we've seen in a long time in "Figures Don't Lie."

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Greer and family and Miss Virginia Graham, of New Brighton visited Monday with Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Greer.

Mr. and Mrs. Festus Wilson and son Lloyd, spent the weekend with relatives in East Liverpool.

Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Fryfogel and family visited Christmas with relatives near Sebring.

Mrs. Mary Gorman and John Tennis of Youngstown visited Tuesday with Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Whitman.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Schmidt and children spent Christmas with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Schmidt in East Palestine.

Educational features predominated at the annual fair at Batavia, Netherlands East Indies.

A Swedish syndicate has purchased all the match factories in Lithuania and will close all but one.
